Education BEYOND BORDERS

My first experience was in South Africa working with abandoned and orphaned boys and soon after their teachers. The satisfaction was immediate! But so much more can be done.

With an education system that cannot fully support its teachers or students, a majority of underprivileged children find themselves in poor and over-crowded conditions; without resourced teachers skilled with the best practices to motivate them. Therefore many drop out of school at young ages and this is a growing reality in too many disadvantaged regions.

As educators and students it can be easy to take what we have for granted. I sincerely believe that education is the one thing that can better lives, provide opportunities and give hope. It is the one thing no one can take away from you.

Noble Kelly, President EBB

Getting Involved

There are many ways you can get involved: by being a part of travelling workshops equipping teachers in other countries with resources and best practices, by helping to develop and/or donating educational resources, by collaborating with and mentoring teachers around the globe, or by connecting your class with a class in another country for collaborative learning projects and friendship.

You can also assist by initiating fund-raising projects like connecting classes, developing partnerships with other related organisations to advance mutual goals or taking sabbaticals to work abroad.

The true way that we can develop global citizens is if we actually taught, learned and acted within a global context. If this is not the case, then ask yourself, “How SMALL is my classroom?”
